

Dr. Maria VELUDO, PhD

Originally from Portugal, Maria Veludo has been working in France for over a decade. She holds a PhD in Management from the University of Glasgow and a degree in Economics from the University of Porto.

She spent the last 30 years of her career designing and developing projects in industry, services, academia, and non-profit organizations.

It was also during that time that she gave lectures in Portuguese and in French Business Schools on Business & Strategic Management. Today, besides being the CEO of TEHO FI, she applies her skills and experience to auditing, consultancy, learning facilitation, content curation, production of insights and the organization of events.

She remains focused on developing practical yet scientifically sound knowledge. Her most recent framework, The Value Stream Loop, appears as a synthesis of her many years of experience in Supply Chain Management, Sustainability and CSR.

She is currently developing other instruments, related to the building of Resilience in organizations.
